WATER COMMISSIONERS' REPORT

February 1, 1940.

To the Taxpayers of the Town of Raymond:

Your Water Board submits report of money taken in and money spent for maintenance, repairs, bonds paid, and interest charges. This year has been an extremely hard year to collect water bills due to the fact that there were over three months when the shoe shop did not work but we have done our level best to collect every bill we could.

The outstanding accounts as of this date are $1,275.76, most of which will be paid within a few days as the shops are now working again in good shape.

During the past year we have had to attach several pieces of property in order to get our water bills and have also had to shut off several people due to non-payment. Of this outstanding money there is very little that is not collectible.

You will notice that our largest expense is the electricity used in the pumping of water which to us commissioners seems exorbitant but as of this date we still are unable to get a less rate. We hope to get a less rate on the pumping for the ensuing year.

Very truly yours,

ASBURY SMALL,
CHARLES DEWAN,
HERMAN CLOCK,

Raymond Water Commissioners.

REPORT OF HIGHWAY AGENT

Expenditures and Savings for the Year

During the past year we have had considerable expense to pay on the tractor, which has broken twice during the year. This cost the town in the vicinity of $150 for labor and parts. The town tractor, which the town has owned for fourteen years, is in very poor condition.

When we have to take $150 out of Town Maintenance for repairs and parts for the tractor, it means $150 less for hauling gravel and cutting brush. The Highway Department has kept within its appropriation for the past year, but we cannot continue to do so if we have to keep repairing the tractor.

Some people think we ought to get along without a tractor, but we cannot plow our country roads with a truck when they are drifted.

A tractor is the only thing the Highway Department is in need of this coming year and I hope the voters of the Town of Raymond, if they want better roads and better service in winter, will attend Town Meeting and cooperate in getting a new tractor.

Savings

One of the savings we made this year was in buying a sanding machine. This is a saving in labor, it is much quicker, spreads the sand more evenly, and a load of sand will go much farther.

I appreciate the cooperation the citizens and selectmen have given me during this past year.

LYMAN HAMMOND,
Highway Agent.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board of Raymond:

In this, my eleventh annual report, your attention is called not only to the customary activities of the school but also to new obligations and responsibilities which changing conditions are placing upon an efficient school system.

Organization and Instruction

In September, 1939, three changes and one transfer occurred in the staff of teachers.

From a group of eight candidates Mr. Hammond A. Young of South Acworth, New Hampshire, was selected to succeed Headmaster Laurence P. Bagley, during whose efficient administration, beginning in 1929, enrollment in the six-year high school grew from 63 to 132 pupils, while the total enrollment in his building increased from 180 to 292.

We are fortunate in securing Headmaster Young who brings to this position training and experience in both large and small high schools of our state. Mr. Young graduated from the University of New Hampshire in 1933. His practice teaching was done in Concord High School. Following graduation he was associated for a year with the Concord Y. M. C. A. He then served for two years as teacher-coach in the Penacook High School and three years as Headmaster of the Madison High School. During this time Mr. Young spent two summers in graduate study at Harvard and Boston Universities.

Miss Mary M. Bobick of Nashua was elected to teach commercial classes formerly conducted by Miss Brenda Fisher. Miss Bobick graduated in 1939 from Boston University, College of Practical Arts and Letters. Her practice teaching in shorthand and typewriting was done in the Boston University night classes and in the Somerville High School.

Shortly before the opening of school Mr. Neil Sullivan was granted release from his contract with Raymond to accept the position of elementary school principal in Derry. The consequent vacancy in grades five and six was filled by the election of Miss Elizabeth J. Wastcoat of Wollaston, Massachusetts. Miss Wastcoat is a 1939 graduate of the four-year junior high school course of Bridgewater Teachers College. Her practice teaching was done in the fifth grade of the Bridgewater Training School and the sixth grade of the Quincy School, North Quincy, Massachusetts.

Mr. Henry J. Hastings, who succeeded Mr. Sullivan for a half-year as substitute teacher in grades five and six, was transferred in September to teach departmental work in grades seven and eight. Mr. Hastings is coach of the boys' basketball teams. He is also scout leader of a fine troop of younger boys.

In the instruction of a large number of pupils it is found necessary to continue in the intermediate grades oral as well as silent reading for the development of greater skill and comprehension. This involves annually some expenditure for books which another year might be well invested in social science papers such as "My Weekly Reader," "Our Times," or "Current Events" for the use of each individual pupil. To a limited extent such papers are now purchased by the pupils themselves. These papers supply much practical and purposeful reading, and prepare a foundation for worthwhile discussions.

By the recent introduction of correlated curriculum activities in the primary grades, and the enrichment of experiences through observation trips and the use of social studies readers in the intermediate grades, a more comprehensive approach is made possible to the geography, history and civics of the upper grades.

"Next to the spoken language, music is the most universal means of self-expression." Instruction in music seeks four objectives. First, that from singing experiences the pupils shall derive satisfaction and pleasure; second, that pupils shall come to know and appreciate beautiful songs and compositions; third, that each individual shall acquire an increasing amount of skill in singing; and fourth, that the pupil shall learn to use singing as a medium of self-expression. Under the direction of your music supervisor, Mrs. Lovell, these four objectives are being emphasized. For more thorough instruction in appreciation your music supervisor needs a portable victrola and professionally selected records of choice compositions that the pupils may learn to recognize the productions of eminent composers and to distinguish and appreciate the various instruments of the orchestra. The custom of exchanging records among the several schools under the direction of the supervisor reduces the individual expense to approximately fifty dollars.

An enrollment of more than one hundred pupils in the two classrooms occupied by grades three to six, inclusive, is robbing some twenty pupils of the individual attention that must be given them if they are to enter the junior high school. To provide a classroom for another teacher will necessitate some crowding of pupils in grades seven and eight. If necessary, some of these older groups can go to the library or even to the auditorium for recitations.

Concerning instruction and other activities of the high school I commend to your attention the brief but interesting reports of the Headmaster and other teachers.

Buildings, Grounds, and Equipment

On March 31, 1939, the completed additions to the school plant were inspected and accepted by officials of the Public Works Administration and school board of Raymond. The total cost of the project was $36,696.84. This sum includes the architect's and lawyer's fees, printing, engineering, premium on insurance, and interest on $20,000 bonds during the period of construction. This reduces the actual cost of construction, including the new heating plant that serves the entire building, to $33,598.00.

Purchases of equipment for the auditorium-gymnasium include 350 steel, folding, juvenile chairs, one fixed backstop for basketball, and two step ladders. A very serviceable frame for mounting a backstop from the stage was built by our janitor at a saving in cost of nearly two hundred dollars.

The auditorium adds much to the convenience and efficiency of instruction in music, debating, and dramatics, particularly in the training of large chorus groups such as recently participated in the juvenile operetta, "Jack and the Bean Stalk."

From the proceeds of several operettas, presented in past years, and from contributions of other organizations, a fund is being raised to purchase stage curtain, valance, and track for the auditorium.

As authorized by the district at its annual meeting the electric lighting equipment has been made adequate in four of the high school rooms, including the old assembly room, basement sewing room, commercial room, and library. I quote from the September, 1939, report of Mr. Russell H. Leavitt, state high school inspector, who formerly criticized severely the lack of sufficient light.

"Since the last visit, the high school classrooms have been supplied with new lighting facilities, which are excellent." It is to be hoped that before another year this report may also apply to the classrooms used by over one hundred children in the elementary grades.

The small library room, made available by the relocation of commercial classes, is equipped with two steel-pedestal study tables and a dozen steel-framed chairs.

Two of the old typewriters in the commercial department have been exchanged for the latest models in Underwood machines.

Steel cabinet lockers to which only the individual pupil has access are much needed, particularly by the boys and girls in physical education classes. For the sum of $175 the most urgent need for forty compartments can be supplied. Eventually such lockers should be provided for all of the high school pupils.

It is recommended that under the item of "Minor Repairs" the asphalt surface, that has proved so practical on the basement stairs, be applied to the floors and stairways of both the boys' and girls' entrances.

Playgrounds for the younger pupils are ample in space but without equipment to accommodate the numbers. The shop classes under Mr. Gilman have recently built four see-saws mounted on a substantial iron frame anchored in cement piers. A set of four pipe-framed swings would provide activity for an older group of elementary pupils. With the exception of swing chains, roller bearings, and three- and four-way connectors, these may be framed from second hand pipe at a very small cost.

A definite plan for landscaping the school grounds should be adopted so that any investment for such improvement may be applied with a permanent and artistic objective. Such landscaping service may be secured at reasonable cost through this department at the University of New Hampshire.

Special Activities

In the annual spelling contest, held in Hooksett last June, the Raymond team of three members, including Norman Willoughby from Grade IV, LeRoy Fogg from Grade VI, and Theresa LaCouture from Grade VIII, was tied for second place with the Hooksett team by a score of 290 out of a possible 300.

Through the courtesy of the local dentist, Dr. M. C. Mayo, office facilities at clinic prices were made available. Under the direction of Miss Cronin, school nurse, eighty-six pupils were treated by Dr. Mayo. Of this number seventy-five received complete dental care. Through the contribution of $25.75 by the local Red Cross and Parent-Teacher Association, free treatment was provided for fifteen children from the elementary grades.

This year prompt response to the request of your school nurse for free milk for twenty children was made by the P. T. A., Woman's Club, Grange, churches, and lodges. Although this daily milk ration of one-half pint per child seems small, the regular weight tests of the children indicate its value. Another health service rendered last year contributing much to the child's resistance to disease, was the distribution of cod liver oil to some fifteen families. Unfortunately due to war prices our resources are inadequate to meet present needs.

Early in the fall the A. A. A. cooperated in organizing a Safety Patrol unit in the high school. The prime purpose of such patrol officers is to assist and protect the younger pupils who travel to and from school either on foot or by bus. These patrols may warn motorists of danger when children are crossing a highway, but the patrols are not authorized to direct motor traffic. This is only one phase of a nation-wide effort, organized to make practical our safety education. It merits the genuine support not only of the police department but of all citizens.

The Young Farmers Club, organized last year with thirteen members, held fifteen meetings under the leadership of Submaster Sewell W. Gilman. The membership includes young men, eighteen or more years of age, who are not in school but are actively engaged in poultry raising, dairying or other agricultural projects. The fifteen evening classes were distributed as follows: four to brooding chicks, two each to ranging chicks and poultry diseases, three each to crops and dairy management, and one to beef cattle in New Hampshire. Eight of the members attended ten or more of the meetings and received certificates. The organization with regular meetings is being continued this winter. Club membership is open to the young farmers of Raymond and neighboring towns. The cost of leadership is met from a special allotment of federal money.

Highly to be commended is the use of the school by adults for vocational training, physical education, dramatics, and recreation. More and more the American people are thinking of the school plant, be it one room or fifty rooms, as their community center.

Again our boys and girls become more vitally interested in those institutions which their elders share with them.

It is evident throughout the country that changed economic and social conditions are emphasizing a demand that practical education for adults be made a permanent part of the public school system.

In Conclusion

Direction and assistance in vocational guidance is now a recognized function of our high schools. Yet the school life of some children ends with the grammar grades or even earlier. To these children and to a few who fail to complete a high school course, the public schools with the assistance of the National Youth Administration and similar agencies face a new responsibility.

Through the assistance of your teachers and the school nurse a personal record of every pupil who graduates from your schools is now made a part of the permanent files in the Superintendent's office.

For the first time this year we are attempting to follow up those graduates who are not in school and whom we may assist in vocational placement. Today the duty of the community does not end with the presentation of a diploma.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE H. HARMON,
Superintendent of Schools.

HOME ECONOMICS REPORT FOR CURRENT YEAR

September-October, 1939

There are 36 girls taking cooking this year, divided into three groups. We spent five weeks canning for people that would provide the material. This saves the expense of buying material and gives a large quantity to work with similar to home conditions. We were able to do a large variety of things but were unable to get corn due to the poor season. We preserved:

166 quarts tomatoes
10 quarts tomato soup
17½ quarts pears
20 quarts string beans
8 quarts shell beans
18½ quarts mince meat
20 quarts peaches
10½ quarts summer squash
46 quarts picallilli
22 quarts beets
36 quarts carrots
11 quarts carrot marmalade
16 pints chili sauce
13 pints mustard pickle
70 glasses grape jelly
16 glasses crab apple jelly

The department was given the following for its own use:

1 bushel green tomatoes, Vernon Batchelder.
4 bushels of apples, Walter Quimby.
2 pecks crab apples, Ben. Moody.
3 bushels tomatoes, 1 bushel beets, 1 peck carrots,
1 bushel string beans, 1 bushel green tomatoes, Lewis Holmes.

Using the material given the department we canned for our own use this winter the following:

10 quarts tomato soup
49 quarts tomatoes
22 quarts beets
14½ quarts carrots
20 quarts string beans
8 quarts chili sauce
9 quarts mincemeat
12 quarts picallilli
2 quarts mustard pickle
22 glasses jelly

REPORT OF HEADMASTER

To the Superintendent and School Board:

School opened on September 6th with an enrollment of 80 in the High and 46 in the Junior High School. Since then four have entered, seven transferred, and six left, leaving a total enrollment of 71. One has entered the Junior High School, two have left and two have been transferred. Our total enrollment for grades 7-12 is 114 of which 22 are tuition pupils, representing the towns of Candia, Chester, Deerfield, Lee, and Nottingham.

The Agricultural Department has taken part in several judging contests in which individuals have won prizes. A student from the University of New Hampshire who is training in Vocational Agriculture did his cadet teaching under the direction of our Agricultural Department.

Three one-act plays and a movie were presented this fall for the benefit of the Athletic Association. The P. T. A. also sponsored a magician show, the funds to be used for gymnasium equipment. The gymnasium is meeting a need found in every school although some are much less fortunate than is Raymond. The training in athletics by our coaches is doing much to develop the boys and girls physically, mentally, and to train them in those qualities of good citizenship which are so vital in our present-day America. Much equipment is needed in order to add variety to the present gymnasium program.

The classrooms are well equipped with the essential materials. There is a need, however, in the High School for a set of encyclopedias and other supplementary reading. New lights are needed in some of the rooms; the entry floors and first stairs should be covered; and many of the desks should be sanded and re-varnished.

An orchestra has been recently organized and will make its first public appearance at the High School operetta to be presented March 14th.

The general attitude of the teachers in the entire school is to be commended and their assistance in the supervision of the building and grounds is appreciated. The janitor has also rendered valuable service to the school.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Superintendent, School Board and all others who have helped to make this a pleasant year.

Respectfully submitted,

H. A. YOUNG,
Headmaster.
